Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Pansy s Sunday Book Such, such was the creature Who stood in the door; In dress, form and feature - Nothing less, nothing more. May you love this, my lad From the slums of the city; Not think him all bad, But regard him with pity. (The name.) Though nameless he stood Clad in rags in that door, Whether evil or good, He is nameless no more. Well call him hereafter, If you make no objection, In tears - or in laughter, On further reflection - Thomas Tinker, all told, But Tommy for short, Until he grows old - Perhaps then, when in sport. But I ll tell you I think, sir, Before saying more, This is not the Tom Tinker You ve heard of before, But another, whose fame Is as worthy of mention As the first of his name Who claimed your attention. (The story.) We will trace him as we may, on his way From that doorstep, where at play on that day; We will see just how he earned That for which his young heart yearned, How from good he firmly turned not astray. Selling papers he began, little man, Then on errands often ran, like a van ; Then his matches he would sell, Blacking boots the while, as well; And with cheerful voice would tell all his plan. Tried his courage was, I m told; nor condoled By humanity, which rolled, with its gold, On its laughing, rushing way, Like a crowd of boys at play, Or a flock of sheep astray from the fold. But his heart was brave and true, and he knew That to flinch would never...
